

Refuskills

Duration: 28 months

Description of the project

Regardless of individual moves to-from-between countries a documentation and declaration of skills, competences and certifications will be of great value to the individual migrant, the recipient country, and to the host community. This project aims to use the Skillsbank experiences and system to meet the immediate needs for a rapid competence assessment and declaration for refugees and other migrants.

Specific objectives:

-Establishment of an easy-to-use mechanism that gives refugees/migrants an opportunity to document their skills and competences (in their own language) by using basic ECVET instruments and according to Learning Outcome principles.

-Facilitation and reduction of processing time in handling of refugees' and asylum-seekers' residence applications, and identification of appropriate/relevant individual career pathways towards employment and training.

-Improving the recipient countries' possibilities for a fast identification of migrants' skills and competences, and thus for a facilitated integration and participation in work and capacity building programs.

-Exploring the possibility of issuing a "RefuPass" stating the individuals competence portfolio based upon Learning Outcomes.
